UP TO HER NECK IN JOY

Camomille is 10 years old and loves horses. But that hasn't always been the case. When she was little and walked past the Four-Horseshoes equestrian center, she used to hold her nose. And then she met a superb horse named Ocean. Since then, they've become inseparable and together, they don't gallop, they fly.

THE SONG OF THE CICADAS

Ever since their mother died, Elfie and Magda have lived with their ill-tempered aunt. But one day, their older sister comes back from London with an English bus that she has turned into a bookmobile to go from town to town. A new life begins! First stop: an island in Brittany where old grudges are shaking the local population, all because of a mysterious lost stamp. During the journey, Elfie will find out that she has inherited her mother's witchy gifts and spell book, which she must complete with her own words...

FOOLS MUST NOT BE TAKEN FOR PEOPLE (VOL. 3)

Fools Must Not Be Taken for People is a book of absurd humor about run-of-the-mill stupidity. In this hilarious and dark comic book, the author twists society's clichés and gives them a hard time: everyday racism, grotesque governmental measures, connected houses, police quotas, prison overcrowding, rejection of social outcasts... Reuzé spares nothing and nobody, much to our delight.

ELISE AND THE NEW PARTISANS

Elise, a young singer who left Lyon to try her luck in Paris in 1958, turns her back on showbiz after the riots in May 1968. Refusing to "return to normal," she joins the anti-establishment movements fighting against exploitation, social injustice, and racism. An atypical journey that leads us from the Algerian War to the end of the 1970s.

AFTER THE CRASH

For the last 18 years, Crédule has sought the identity of the baby who survived the crash on December 23, 1980. Two families lay claim to her: the Carvilles, a bourgeois family, and the Vitral, who sell French fries. The courts eventually entrust her to the Vitral family. Hired by the Carvilles, the detective sets out on the investigation of his lifetime. But it was all for nothing. Just as he's about to pull the trigger, he looks one last time at the front page of the newspaper from that era... and suddenly understands.

THE SCANDALOUS TICKET CASE

Sherlock Holmes decides to take on a case, which, in the beginning, seems to be no more than a matter of simple medical diagnosis for Dr. Watson. But the discovery of a mysterious powder on some clothes, as well as a ticket to a strange magic show, leads Sherlock to believe that his client is the victim of a large-scale plot, and that he's not the only one... Other tickets found by Sherlock and a series of strange disappearances confirm his suspicions...

THE SNAKE EYE

Zaki is an adventurer. But despite the time he spends with his best friend Choco, his thirst for thrilling experiences is hard to satisfy in his quiet little village. That is, until the arrival of a storyteller, who begins a tale of pirates on the high seas. When he is forced to leave before finishing his story, Zaki and Choco decide to sneak into the storyteller's room to crack open his book of tales, marking the start of an adventure that they will never forget, as they discover the book's power.

AWA: LET'S CHANGE THE WORLD

Awa is 7 years old. She lives in Belgium with Maia, her older sister, her mother Fatou, who was born in Guinea, and Tonio, her father, who's originally from Italy. She feels Belgian, Guinean, Italian... and left-handed. She has a lot of friends, some "no friends," she is good at school, and brings up a lot of questions. She is curious, funny, stubborn, and ready to share a slice of her life with her readers...
