During a party in an isolated house, eight high school students have fun scaring each other before mysteriously disappearing one after another.

Eight high schoolers studying Applied Arts have a tradition of partying Saturday night in a remote house in the country. To change things up, one of them suggests a Fright Night. The goal of the game: to scare the others. It's a drinking game! But with such creative teens, good jokes soon give way to terrifying scenes. Things get heavy. And when a storm breaks, the students find themselves cut off from the rest of the world. Strange noises echo in the old house, rocks start flying out of nowhere, and people start disappearing: first a boy, then a girl... The party has gone horribly wrong, with no way out.
