What does it mean to have a brother? What connects us? The two of us look nothing alike, and yet... we're brothers!

Meet two brothers who are physically quite different: the tall, furry is a panda, while the little green one is a dinosaur.

They don't look anything like, but... they're brothers! They live under the same roof, share the same hugs from the same parents, both love spinach and love whipped cream!

The older brother looks out for the younger one, helping him tie his shoes, comforting him when he's had a nightmare.

The two share their toys, sorrows, laughter, and even mischief!

Who would dare say they aren't brothers?
