Shrink to the size of a bug and study vegetables up close. Can you guess what each one is?

My skin fades from pink to white the farther in you go. Munch munch, crunch my flesh with a touch of salt. It's zesty! Who am I? A radish!

Discover vegetables in this large-format book. Each riddle consists of a close-up of a vegetable's outside, a two-page spread of its insides, and a step back to reveal its full shape, together with the plant from which it grows. The vegetables slowly reveal their identities even as insects discover them from the inside out thanks to clever cut-outs on the pages.
