Take a deep dive with world champion freediver Pierre Frolla through these incredible close-up photos of marine animals.

Get face to face with marine animals in this majestic book of photos taken at incredibly close range. Sharks, cetaceans, skates, moray eels, turtles, even crocodiles reveal how beautiful and also essential they are. Together, Greg Lecœur's underwater photos and Pierre Frolla's dizzying dives put readers in close contact with creatures from the depths that are so indispensable to earthly biodiversity. An unprecedented book that interrogates our relationship to marine ecosystems. How much space are we prepared to leave nature ? Will we colonize the seas as we have already done with the land ?
