A magnificent picture book to stir children's curiosity and interest in language.

Why say "snake" when you can say "anaconda"? Or "monkey" when you know it's an "orangutan"? Manon Bucciarelli has designed a wonderful look and find game with illustrations of unusual creatures and plants in their 15 specific natural habitats! In this striking new series, rendered with beautiful geometry and color, nothing is easy or familiar, but everything is intriguing and spectacular, in shape and in name. Perfect for children who just love to learn new complex words!
