"What does the world look like to a child? Big question! Over a single day, this enchanting journey offers literal and emotional insight from a child's-eye view to a parent's macroscopic one."

Do you remember what the World looked like when you were a child?

The high kitchen table with an apple on it, Daddy's big boots you wanted to put on, Mommy's face tilted downwards... So many things look huge when you're tiny! This word book looks at the world through a child's eyes, from their height, their point of view, ranging from the close-up, almost abstract images of infants to a parent's macroscopic panorama. A new, enchanting way of looking at everyday life from morning until night.

The soft, beguiling charms of Sophie Vissière's stencil illustrations will make readers of all ages delight in this exploration of a day in the life of a child.
