"This incredibly powerful book, poetically written and beautifully drawn, depicts life's rich complexity. The heroine is an outstanding model of freedom and courage."

A beautiful story of the love between parent and child, starring a strong and fiercely independent heroine. A pirate who loves her freedom, a child she meets in a port, the bond they form – these are the ingredients of a very special picture book. A poetic and powerful story by Stéphane Servant, about life and death, being a parent and being a child, leaving and coming back. A celebration of love in its strongest form, brought to life by Audrey Spiry's magnetic and enchanting illustrations.
