An improbable love story between a rabbit and a carrot!

Once upon a time, there was a rabbit. Stylish, elegant, and chic, he was no ordinary rabbit! A single rabbit, he fell in love with a carrot. Naturally, the carrot was terrified at the prospect of being eaten. So the rabbit had his big teeth removed, out of love. This gesture melted the carrot's heart, and it agreed to get married.

But then, along came the fox...

At the bottom of each page, front-row spectators spider and worm hilariously comment on and question the believability of the blossoming love story. Elegant, stylish illustrations rich with character bring the delightfully cheeky, highly rhythmic writing to life. It's love at first sight!
