It's love at first sight for sixteen-year-old Judith and Colin, twice her age. But their romance soon turns into a nightmare...

Judith and Colin meet in the darkness of a Marseille nightclub. Even though he's twice her age and lives in Paris, she's over the moon: this is her first real relationship with a grown-up man! But the euphoria of their initial encounter soon gives way to toxicity. Manipulation, blackmail, and lies take their toll on Judith, who becomes increasingly fragile. Fortunately, swimming keeps her afloat... She can also count on her brother's help and the unfailing support of her friend Elise. A short, punchy, hard-hitting story to be devoured in one sitting.
