A travel journal about the environment, like a journey of hope. The Greeners are delicate creators of happy oases.

Gardening, loving, eating, healing, marveling... Writer and artist Simon takes readers on a journey as he portrays these women and men who have decided to take action and make a difference in our state of ecological emergency. Some turn to permaculture, others recycle everyday objects, and others still take an interest in trees, birds, mushrooms, or citrus fruits... Let's open our eyes! The Greeners are among us. Here are unassuming heroes who work behind the scenes, weaving special ties to nature and from these, embroidering a story.
