"A beautiful, even-handed story of friendship advocating tolerance and kindness."

What if being different were a stroke of good fortune, a treasure chest filled with precious gems to be shared? Noé and Tom, two boys with nothing in common, each recount the details of the other's life. But one day, KABOOM! An ordinary situation shatters all their beliefs. They're different, but in the end... not that different! A two-hander with two very different voices that wind up singing unison!

+ Two-page factsheet on difference, to help start family conversations.
