120 updated maps and graphics help readers understand the history of a people and the issues behind a complex, seemingly endless conflict.

The history of a people who, since the dismantling of the Ottoman Empire and the British Mandate in 1922, have unsuccessfully sought to build their own state. Since 1948, half of all Palestinians have lived outside their homeland. Today, despite international support, there are few signs of a peaceful resolution, particularly in the territories occupied and colonized by Israel.

120 updated maps and infographics:

- The history of the Palestinians since the 19th century,
  - Political representation, demographics,
  - A fragmented territory,
  - A deadlocked diplomatic situation: peace at a dead end.
