An artistic autobiography of Swiss actress Marthe Keller.

An emblematic and eclectic artist, Marthe Keller gives readers a glimpse into the richness of her chosen field and her impressive career. With generosity and no small amount of humor, she shares moments that have stayed with her and encounters that have made her the woman she is today. Demanding in her approach to craft, she has worked with such directors as Philippe de Broca, Claude Lelouch, Billy Wilder, Sydney Pollack, and Patrice Chéreau, and acted opposite Dustin Hoffman, Al Pacino, and Marlon Brando. These scenes from her life help us share in major moments from the history of film.
